

Restraint and Seclusion Policy

Help for non-English speakers

If you need help to understand the information in this policy please contact our office reception staff.

Schools are not required to have a local policy in relation to restraint and seclusion because all Victorian government schools are required to follow the Department's policy and guidance on Restraint and Seclusion on the Department's Policy and Advisory Library. There is no scope to localise this policy so there is no template provided for it. Schools may choose to link to the Department's policy on their school website if they want to provide information for their community on this topic.
